

A Resource Guide: Managing Your Rural Property

What is the Resource Guide ?

The 'Resource Guide: Managing Your Rural Property' is a manual targeted at the small lifestyle landowners in North East Victoria. Often people new to land management are unsure of where to access information or what their rights and responsibilities are.

The 'Resource Guide' is a compilation of relevant land management information featuring 'gateways' directing the reader to further their information resources. It has been designed to allow you to add further information.

What information does it contain?

The 'Resource Guide' contains a list of contacts and technical information. It includes:

- Key local and state Government contacts for land managers
- Regional natural resource management priorities
- Technical information on pests plants and animals, soil health, water quality and native biodiversity
- Local Landcare networks
- Fire prevention strategies
