

CARING FOR OUR COUNTRY

DISCOVER THE MAGIC OF WETLANDS

WORLD WETLANDS DAY

World Wetlands Day is celebrated each year on 2 February. It marks the date of the signing of the Convention on Wetlands 2 February 1971, in the Iranian city of Ramsar. The slogan for this year is "Upstream Downstream." Further information can be found at www.ramsar.org

The Murray River region provides home to nearly 7,000 wetlands that cover almost 100,000 hectares.

We have a large range of wetland types such as shallow freshwater marshes, freshwater meadows and deep freshwater marshes.

The alpine and subalpine areas contain Australia's largest collection of mossbeds!
